SOLID SILVER BATHTUB.

Freddy Gebhard's Unique Ante-nuptial Gift to the Lady Who Is Now His Wife. A New York correspondent says that the last ante-nuptial present made by Fred Gebhard to the lady who is now Mrs. Gebhard was sent to Baltimore two days before the wedding. This present is a solid silver bathtub.The correspondent continues: "It is not one of those everyday German silver affairs such as Albany legislators are wont to lay in. The white metal in this gorgeous ante-nuptial gift is without alloy. The vessel is as commodious as the workmanship displayed on it is intricate and ingenious. Tall and beautifully proportioned as the lady is, she will be able to dispense herself in this lover's gift without fear of stubbing her pink toes at one end of it or abrasing her scalp by sudden contact with the other.""This little piece of boudoir furniture is beautifully embossed. The exterior resembles a perfectly laid out flower garden in miniature, while the interior is delicately chased. On the bottom of the tub are engrossed Mrs. Gebhard's initials in huge letters. It weighs 200 pounds avoirdupois weight. The market price for silver at present is 88 cents an ounce. In this double decked and triple riveted vessel suggestive of female sybaritism there are 3,200 ounces. At 83 cents an ounce this amounts to $2,656 for the metal alone."Silver workers in New York who were allowed to feast their eyes on the beautiful vessel before it was swathed in tinted cotton and soft tissue paper, preparatory to being sent to Baltimore, say that it could not possibly be made for less than $2,500. This brings the cost of the gift up to $3,156. The interior of the bath tub is fitted up with receptacles for soap, brushes, sponges, etc., and near the head of it is a dainty silver box attached to the side, in which is a silver manicure set. There is also a comfortable headrest, with an open space for a rubber air pillow should the fair user desire to take a dolce far niente bath. Altogether this little piece of water brac-a-brac is decidedly Gebhard-esque."French Lovers of Art AnxiousFrench lovers of art are becoming anxious over the distribution of many priceless treasures in the past year among English, German and American collectors. The original gallery of General Haquin, the Napoléon general who sacked the city of Paris, has been broken up. World renowned originals of the early Italian, Dutch, Flemish and French schools went, most of them, to London and Berlin. The absence of any national reserve fund for the purchase of such treasures much regretted. The annual subsidy allowed to the government galleries is only $30,000. It is urged that the current fund of nearly $2,000,000, the product of the sale of the crown jewels, be devoted to this purpose. A small addition fee at the Louvre is also advocated for the double advantage of keeping out looters and raising revenue to purchase additions.—Art Journal.Culpeper's Alleged Blarney Stone.Those who took the trouble to kiss the alleged "Blarney stone," in the walls of the reproduction of Blarney castle, in the Midway plausance, will be delighted to learn from an official report of Deputy Customs Collector J. F. Ralph that the object of their osculations was a limestone paving block, dug out of the streets of Chicago and palmed off on the customs officers and public as a genuine stone from Blarney, County Cork, Ireland.—Philadelphia Ledger.Children Cry for PitchersMrs. Howe on Woman's Advance.The very full advance in the condition of women which the last 20 years has brought about makes me a little doubtful of my ability to prophesy concerning the future of the sex. At the beginning of the first of these decades few would have foretold the great extension of educational opportunities, the opening of the professions, the multiplication of profitable industrial pursuits, all of which have combined to place women before the world in the attitude of energetic, self supporting members of society.Even the vexed suffrage question has made great progress during the time specified, pushing itself slowly and steadily forward until in three states in the Union it has attained an impregnable position, while in several others it has a partial efficiency and recognition.The changes which I foresee are allfurther developments of the points al-ready gained. I feel assured that in thenear future the co-operation of womenin municipal and in state affairs will benot only desired, but demanded by menof pure and worthy citizenship.Mothers, wives, sisters will no longer stand as suppliants before the state legis-latures, asking that they may becomepolitically the equals of men who pro-fess to treat them as superiors, but whoreally combine to keep them in a stateof perpetual minority.The true progress of civilization isfrom the assumption of privilege to therecognition of right. In our country thisprogress already embraces the whole ofone sex. The laws of moral equilibriumwill speedily place the other sex in anequal condition, exalting the dignitiesof domestic life and making the homealtz rich with the gifts of true patriot-ism and wise public spirit.—Julia WardHowe.Important Information For Girls.Blue eyed men are the most senti-mental of the species. At least this iswhat an eminent physiognomist says.They are peculiarly susceptible to theinfluence of the opposite sex, melt underthe warmth of one ardent glance, haveemotional, mercurial affections and arefound by the coquettish to be easier gameto bag than to hold.—American WomanDo you ask me for my secret?Why my teeth are pearly white?Why my breath is ever fragrant?And my gums are rosy bright?My secret's off! been told before—Use SOZODONT. And nothing more."As old as the hills" and never excelled. "Tried and proven" is the verdict of millions. FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1894.

SILVER MEN HOPEFUL.

The sentiment in favor of the remonetization of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 is increasing throughout the country. General Warner, who has been conferring with silver men in all parts of the United States says the silver cause is rapidly advancing and attaining proportions that must soon revolutionize the country. Men hitherto wedded to the gold standard are now inclining toward silver.

The feeling of confidence that silver will be remonetized in the very near future is not confined to the South and West. The Eastern money centers are beginning to understand the situation. Their pockets have been touched and they are investigating the cause. Railroad earnings are decreasing and Eastern stockholders are realizing that the suspension of silver coinage and the adoption of the single gold standard is the cause of the decrease in dividends. Those men, whose brains could be reached only through their pockets, are alarmed at the decline in profits from railroad and other investments. The heavy exports of gold, which no longer can be attributed to the purchase of silver bullion, continue almost to as great an extent as in 1893, and unless the double standard policy is adopted by the Government this country will be drained of its gold in a few years.

The millions of unemployed, and the labor disturbances in all parts of the country, show that the business revival which the gold men predicted would follow the repeal of the Sherman Act has not materialized and that confidence has not been restored to any appreciable extent. The business depression is, therefore, clearly attributable to the demonetization of silver and the predictions that complete industrial prostration would result therefrom are being fulfilled.

The politicians of both the old parties who are appealing to man's prejudices realize the truth of Lincoln's remark that "you cannot fool all the people all the time." They see thousands deserting them, and States like Kansas, which gave 82,000 Republican majority a few years ago, now controlled by a third party, and States like Alabama and Texas, which gave proportionately large Democratic majorities, declaring for the Populists.

SENATOR JONES TO SPEAK.

The news comes from Washington that Senator John P. Jones of Nevada will shortly issue an address on the silver question, and defending his position on existing political and financial affairs.

As Senator Jones has been in the front rank of the silver advocates and is recognized as an authority on monetary matters the address is looked for with great interest, not only by the silver men but by the goldbugs. When on this coast last winter the Senator said that the old parties were irrevocably committed against the remonetization of silver, and no relief could reasonably be expected from Republicans or Democrats. The money powers of London and New York dominated both, and if Great Britain is permitted to dictate the financial policy of the United States, the blood of the heroes of the revolution was shed in vain. This country should declare its financial as well as political independence. It is large enough and powerful enough to maintain a financial policy of its own.

Senator Jones in his public speeches and private conversations conveys the idea that he has nothing in common with the gold combination. As a consistent advocate of free coinage he cannot affiliate with a party that is opposed to it. As an observer of public events, he must see that great dissatisfaction exists among the people at the course of the old party leaders, between whom there is really no difference except on tariff schedules and in name, and that the drift of public sentiment is toward a third party which will not be controlled by Wall Street.

INTERESTING INFORMATION.

Senator Allen of Nebraska has introduced a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to the total number of persons engaged in protected industries, the number whose wages are claimed to be affected by protection, the proportion of persons in the United States dependent on foreign markets for the sale of their products, the number engaged in protected industries who are native citizens, the number who are naturalized citizens and the number of aliens; also the number of native and naturalized citizens who are displaced by aliens.

Chandler raised the question whether the Secretary of the Treasury could comply with the request, and Allen called attention to the fact that a similar resolution was adopted in 1886.

If the information which this resolution calls for is furnished it will shed some light on the tariff question. It will be of interest to the public to know how many persons are engaged in protected industries and what proportion of them are citizens of the United States. It will also be interesting to learn what proportion of the people are dependent upon a foreign market for the sale of their products.

The value of domestic produce exported in nine months ending April 1, 1894, was $692,451,728. The most important of these exports are wheat, cotton, meat and corn, all products of the farm.

THE INDUSTRIALS.

Reports from Contingents in Various Parts of the Country.

VACAVILLE, Cal., May 17.—One hundred and fifty Industrialists this morning raided the various ranches and fruit farms in Vacaville valley for the purpose of driving out Chinese and Japanese. They took them prisoners and drove them ahead of them, in various ways maltreating them. The whole crowd was finally arrested, including the Chinese and Japanese, and is in custody here.

MODESTO, Cal., May 17.—Nearly one hundred members of the Industrial army, under General Barker, arrived on a barge late last night. The men went into camp south of town and were to-day furnished food by the citizens. The men hoped to make arrangements to go south on the railroad, but so far nothing has been done.

GREEN RIVER, Wyo., May 17.—Marshal Pinkham will have a posse and one company of troops to take the Commonwealers to Boise. A start will not be made until an order is given by Judge Riner, who will be here to-morrow.

KROPSQUA, Iowa, May 17.—Kelley's fleet reached here to-day and left this afternoon for Farmington, well supplied with provisions.

Kelley will perhaps go to Washington to take charge of the Commonwealth armies of the United States. The difficulty at Eldon was settled by arbitration and Colonel Speed was released. Eldon is still in turmoil of excitement. Citizens loudly denounce the Rock Island deputies.

DENVER, Col., May 17.—An effort is being made to concentrate in this city the Commonwealers from the West. Another army is being organized here. General Hegworth, commander of the Coxey home reserve, says 1,000 women will march to Washington to advocate Coxey's bill.

CINCINNATI, May 17.—General Frye, whose command is encamped at Lawrenceburg, Ind., said to-day that 1,000 organizers were at work, and the Industrial army now numbers 150,000. He asserted that within sixty days he would have 200,000 men in Washington.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate to Investigate the Bribery Charges.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Lodge's resolution to investigate the charges of the attempted bribery of Kyle and Hunton was discussed in the Senate to-day, and passed with amendments that make the resolution a veritable drag net, including all the charges of bribery. All allegations of contributions made by the Sugar Trust, directly or indirectly, to campaign committees or to be used in elections by either party or any way to improperly influence any Senator in Tariff legislation.

Hansbrough read a letter from Bultz asking an investigation.

Hunton asked for a speedy investigation, so did Harris.

Allen, in behalf of Kyle, who was absent, declared that he would demand an investigation. Allen made the resolution more specific by adding: "Or whether any Senator has been speculating in what is known as sugar stock while the Tariff bill has been pending."

Senator Gallinger gave another installment of speech against the Tariff bill.

GEORGIA POPULISTS.

Ex-Congressman Watson Scores the Administration.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 17.—Tom Watson, upon being chosen Chairman of the People's Party State Convention, made a speech severely criticizing the course of the present Administration.

"Two years ago," said he, "we were fed upon the ambrosia of Democratic expectations. To-day we are given the cockroaches of Democratic reality."

He intimated that if the Chicago Democratic platform had been strictly adhered to by the Administration there would have been no such convention of Populists in Georgia to-day.

J. J. Hines, a prominent lawyer of this city, will be the candidate for the Governorship. The Populists would really prefer to have Watson for Governor, but he intends to be a candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, which he represented in the Fifty-Second Congress.

Death of Judge Wilson.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, May 17.—Judge Thomas S. Wilson died yesterday, aged 81 years. In 1838 he was appointed Judge of the Iowa Supreme Court by President Van Buren. The appointment was renewed by Presidents Tyler and Polk, and he continued on the bench until 1847. He served several terms in State Legislatures and also District Judge.

Coal Famine at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—A coal famine which has been threatening this city for some time is now practically an established reality. The problem of how to get more coal has already passed the serious stage. Many of the railroad dealers have suspended business entirely and are simply waiting for the strike to end. Nearly every business house in the city is running short of fuel for their boilers. The result of the Cleveland convention is, therefore, being anxiously awaited.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Fifty thousand tons of coal on the river front at Pawtucket, R. I., caught fire and burned. Loss, $500,000.

Search for the robbers who shot Detective Harris at Boulder Station, California, has so far been unsuccessful.

The examination of Constable Fleckenstein for killing Colonel Paisley of the Industrial Army is being held at Auburn.

ASH Wednesday.

The American Railway Union has assessed each of its 300,000 members three cents per week to sustain the Pullman strikers.

W. D. Miller, foreman at the Crown Flouring Mills, Stockton, Cal., was instantly killed yesterday by being caught in the machinery.

A large building recently erected at Mendota Lake, Minnesota, was wrecked by dynamite. The trouble is attributed to opposition to the sale of liquor.

The Chicago Election Commissioners were fined $1,000 for contempt in refusing to produce the ballots cast at the election when required by the grand jury.

Georgia Populists have nominated Colonel Hines for Governor. He was until recently a prominent Democrat and was a candidate for United States Senator against Gordon.

The Senate Committee on Territories reports a bill in favor of the admission of Utah. The date for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention is in March, 1895.

The mine operators and miners in convention at Cleveland, Ohio, have failed to reach an agreement. Secretary McBride says the miners are unanimously against the proposition of the operators.

Governor Waite of Colorado has decided to remove from office the Penitentiary Commissioners. It is alleged that he wanted Warden McLester removed and the Commissioners refused to remove him, so the Governor decided to remove them.

Bishops and Clergy of the Church of England have issued a manifesto against the disestablishment of the church in Wales. They say the passage of the Disestablishment Act will reduce the church to penury.

Mrs. Partridge, President of the Lady Board of Managers of the Good Templars Orphan Home at Vallejo, Cal., says that Eugene Stone, one of the boys supposed to have been murdered by George Decker at Yreka, has been an inmate of the Home for three years.

Detective Len Harris, who was shot at Bouldin Station, California, died of his wounds at the home of his son-in-law in Alameda. He was a native of New York, aged 66 years, and was elected Sheriff of Sacramento county in 1856. Azoff, who shot him, is still at large. He is a Russian by birth and a painter by trade.

DETROIT, May 17.—An effort is being made to concentrate in this city the Commonwealers from the West. Another army is being organized here. General Hegworth, commander of the Coxey home reserve, says 1,000 women will march to Washington to advocate Coxey's bill.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, we cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, we clung to Castoria. When she had Children, we gave them Castoria.

It has been rumored in Washington for some time that money was being freely used to defeat the Wilson bill. These rumors crystallized into a substantial form when Senator Hunton of Virginia and Senator Kyle of South Dakota made public the fact that money had been offered for votes against the bill.

As a resolution was introduced to investigate the charges, it is probable that a committee will be appointed and that the resolution a veritable drag net, including all the charges of bribery. All allegations of contributions made by the Sugar Trust, directly or indirectly, to campaign committees or to be used in elections by either party or any way to improperly influence any Senator in Tariff legislation.

Whether the money alleged to be in the hands of lobbyists to defeat the bill was furnished by those who are opposed to the income tax, or to a reduction of tariff, or by both, remains to be seen. The investigation will doubtless be thorough, as the dignity of the Senate is involved, and the disclosures will be awaited with interest.

the horses stepped on with a tired and even gait.

And now it was observed that the riders were linked together—that here was some awful unity of horror. Their arms were intertwined, their faces touching. The man's right hand held his horse's reins and a hunting crop, while his left was about the girl's waist. Her right was about his shoulders, and her left held the reins. Their shoulders touched. It was as if they were hewn out of one stone.

But there was no breath from their nostrils. White as ghosts, still as eterniy, they rode on into the heart of the village.

Numb with dread, no one dared approach them. All knew their faces well. No one spoke their names. Even curiosity was stifled in the greatness of their terror.

With the resonant clamor of iron shoes upon wood both horses ascended the slight sloping entrance to the livery stable.

It was by the sound, the livery man came out of his office. He looked in dazed astonishment at these colorless, silent, motionless riders. He noticed what no one had yet seen—upon the breast of each a crimson stain, not quite hidden by the coating of frost.

"Great God," he said, "they're stone dead!"

The sun, shimmering through the planks of a lumber car, part of a freight train traveling through the farther west, rested for an instant on the eyes of Lin-
go Dan as he slept the sleep of the careless. Its radiance woke him. He rubbed his eyes, gave Billy a nudge with his elbow and said: "Hello, Billy! Here we are again!"

"Oh," granted Billy viciously, "you
be d—d!"

"I admit it, Billy. I probably shall be. What for? For gross incompetence in judging the idiocy of a man in love,
for I leave it to any one, it is conceivable that any one but a lunatic would start upon a voyage for life with a life
companion without a son in his pocket?

A lunatic, Billy, is, as I now see, a simile for man in love. Billy, when I was at college I played tennis. In tennis love means nothing. It is the same here. Let us go to sleep again. Great Greely, without a sou, without a soul!"

Turning over, they went to sleep again.—J. Percival Pollard in San Francisco Argonaut.

Famous Races.

The most extraordinary instance perhaps of the stoutness as well as speed of the race horse was afforded by Quib-bler, who in December, 1786, ran 23 miles round the flat at Newmarket in 57 minutes and 10 seconds. In 1772 a mile was run by Firefly in 1 minute and 45 seconds, and Flying Childers ran over the Beacon course—4 miles 1 furlong 138 yards—in 7 minutes and 80 seconds.

In 1745 Mr. Thornton rode from Stret-
ton to London, back and again to London, making 215 miles in 11 hours on a turnpike road and uneven ground, and when the wretched state of the roads at that period is considered the feat becomes truly remarkable.

Sir Robert Carew, when he rode from London to Edinburgh to inform King
James of the death of Queen Elizabeth, is credited with doing a remarkable thing in having ridden 800 miles in less than three days. He did not come off scathless, for he had several falls and received many bruises, and he came into the king's presence all battered and blood stained.

During our Revolutionary war General Lafayette rode from his headquarters in Rhode Island to Boston, a distance of almost 70 miles, in seven hours, and immediately upon having an interview with Washington made the return journey in 6½ hours.

In this connection the famous ride of Nicks, or Dick Turpin, should not be forgotten. He had committed a robbery in London about 4 o'clock in the morning, and fearing arrest made for Gravesend, where he was ferried across the Thames and appeared the same night at 8 o'clock upon the Bowling Green of the city of York. He was nevertheless arrested, and upon his trial was acquitted, the jury deeming it physically impossible for the same horse to bear the same man 600 miles in 16 hours.—Boston Herald.

At the battle of the Hydaspes and there received his death wound. Disobedient for once to the command of his master,
he galloped from the heat of the battle,
brought Alexander to a place of safety, knelt, as was his custom, for him to light, and having thus performed his duty trembled, dropped down and died.

Still Free to Think.

A woman was summoned before a magistrate in Scotland for slandering her neighbor. She was fined a guinea or 14 days' imprisonment. She paid her fine and then asked the court if a person risked imprisonment for thinking.

"Certainly not," said the magistrate.

"Very well, then," screamed the lady, "I think just the same about her character yet!" — Manchester Guardian.
